

Our Editorial Process.

Preparation of editorial items follows a strict and comprehensive quality assurance process:

- All project outputs are reviewed by editorial and business team leaders, to ensure:
 - Scientific accuracy
 - Clarity of clinical and scientific statements
 - Consistency with communication objectives
 - Appropriate tone and style
- All data/references are checked by writers several times during the project
- Editors check style consistency and formatting

Our Internal Editorial Process Overview

External sign-off (dependent on project type) required at each stage